

Learning Activity 3: Character and Perspectives

Instructions

Now it's your turn to write. The following exercises are designed to help you write your own microlit consisting of no more than five to ten sentences. Complete the exercises within the given timeframe.

a) Write about the last time you received a present. When was it given? Who gave it to you? Did you like it? (5 minutes)

b) Now, write as if you were the person giving the present. (10 minutes)

c) Using the same situation, write as if you are the present being given. If you are struggling, try to imagine what the present could be feeling/thinking about. Where did it come from? Why is it being given away? Is it excited or scared to meet its new owner? (15 minutes)
